Preparation steps

Difficulty level: difficult ????????

- 1. Dissolve the yeast in the milk and warm water.
- 2. Mix the flour with the salt and sugar in the bowl of a food processor. Make a well and pour in the yeast-milk-water mixture.
- 3. Add the honey and knead at a slow speed for 3 minutes.
- 4. Add the diced butter and knead again on medium speed for 6 minutes.
- 5. Cover the mixture and leave to rest for 15 minutes at room temperature.
- 6. Deaerate the dough. Roll out into a 20 x 40 cm rectangle and chill for 2 hours.
- 7. Spread the kneading butter into a 20 x 20 rectangle. Chill this too.
- 8. When the pastry has cooled, combine it with the butter and proceed as for a puff pastry. Place the butter in the centre of the pastry and fold over the 2 edges, making a double turn. Chill again for 2 hours and then make a single turn, again chilling for 2 hours.
- 9. Roll out the pastry to a thickness of 4 mm and trim the edges to reveal the puff pastry.
- 10. Moisten the edges with a brush and roll into a tight ball. Cut out 4 slices of the same thickness. Butter the centre. Leave to rise for 1 hour at room temperature.
- 11. Preheat the oven to 175°C and place the rolls in the oven for 40 minutes, turning them over halfway through cooking.
- 12. Melt the cheese in a saucepan over a bain-marie.
- 13. Once the rolls have cooled, pour the melted cheese into a pastry bag and generously fill the inside of the rolls, leaving the cheese to overflow.
- 14. Serve at room temperature.
